

Our Church Matters

Our Mission: Growing Together in Christ Through Worship, Fellowship, Witness and Service

It's All About that Grace...

I experimented a lot in college. It wasn't the kind of experimenting that most people think about (in fact, I think my parents were a bit worried that I wasn't doing more of that). Instead, I experimented with faith. Having grown up Catholic, and having come to faith in The United Methodist Church only a couple years before my high school graduation, college opened my eyes to the diversity of beliefs within the Christian church.

There are over 200 Christian denominations in the United States alone. When you add in all of the non-denominational churches, that's a lot of variety! So, I used my college years to explore Christianity from the perspective of the Episcopalians, Evangelical Lutherans, Pentecostals, Brethren in Christ, Mennonites, Presbyterians, and the Greek Orthodox, along with a couple of non-denominational congregations, too. After all that experimenting, though, I kept coming back to The United Methodist Church.

The thing that kept me coming back was the emphasis The United Methodist Church places on grace - and the way that our lives are held in God's grace from beginning to end. Contrary to what some folks may argue, this is not "cheap grace," but grace that has cost God everything and demands from us a response.

If you've ever done any studies that are distinctly Methodist, you'll find that we have some pretty unique vocabulary to talk about grace... words like "prevenient" and "justifying" and "sanctifying," which may leave us scratching our heads and wondering why they matter in the first place. I'll let you in on a little secret: knowing the fancy words doesn't matter nearly as much as understanding how God works in our lives. In fact, that's what grace is at its core - the unearned and undeserved work of God in our lives. We experience it most often through the Holy Spirit.

On Sunday June 6, we'll be launching into a sermon series on the thing that sets us apart as United Methodists: our convictions about God's beautiful and amazing grace. I hope you'll join us indoors or online at 10:00 a.m.!

Blessings to each one of you,
Pastor Jen

“Growing Together in Christ Through Worship, Fellowship, Witness and Service”

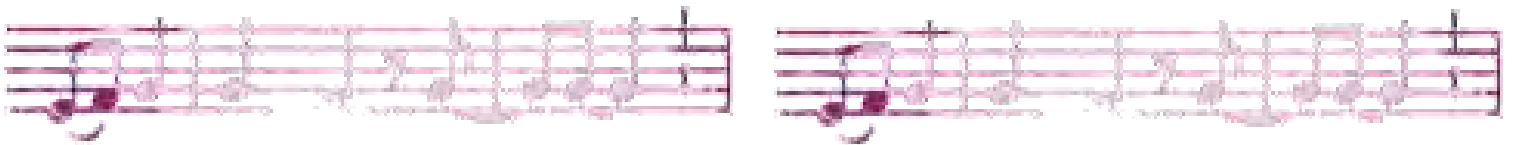

Just a closer walk with Thee
Grant it Jesus is my plea,
Daily Walking close to Thee,
Let it be, dear Lord, Let it be.

WOW!!

This has been something different. I remember communicating with so many of you as we entered the pandemic months. We did so with prayer, hope, and the love of Jesus Christ. Now that there is time to rejoice in the efforts of some recovery, let us continue to serve and share in faith with our brothers and sisters as we stay true to our mission statement.

Stay safe!!

SINGERS NEEDED

I hear the following, not only in the city but also in the atmosphere of other cities across the country. “The flow and color of speech are lost when church choirs sing.” Well, I wanna tell you something, that does NOT happen with the Chancel

Singers. They honor words – the poetry in their singing. If you think hot and cold as you sing the word, it sounds different: more intense, more colorful. We paint pictures with our sounds and we are requesting that some of you volunteer to do the same. As soon as the restriction is lifted, we, the Chancel Singers will have a rehearsal of sorts and so welcome your participation.

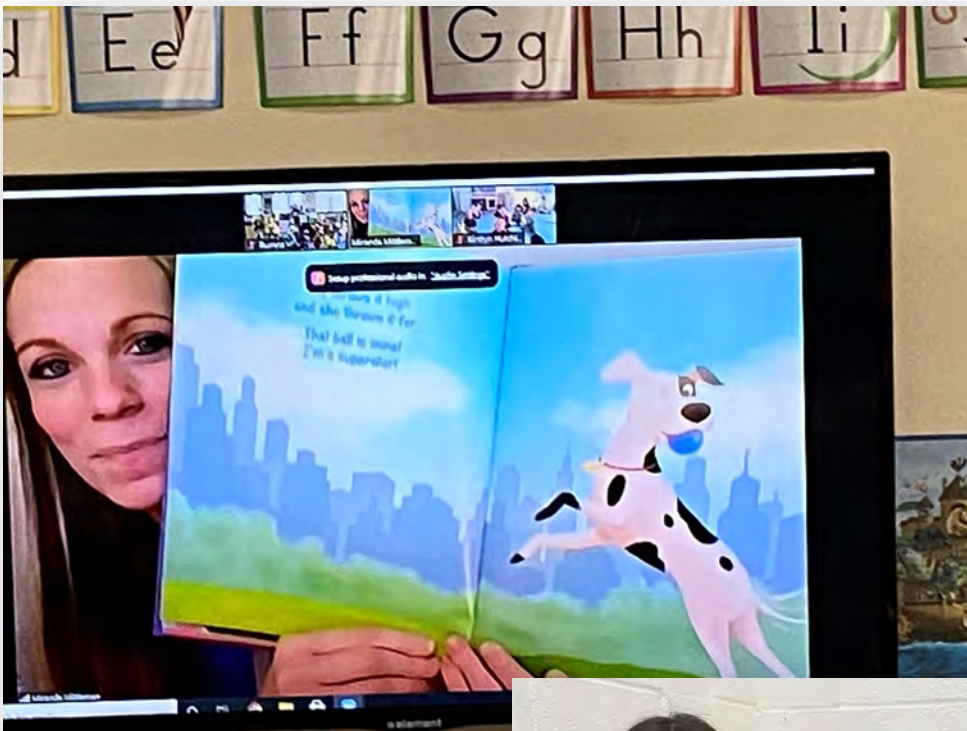

I look forward to the first rehearsal of the year with the Chancel Singers and those who wish to join us. You are most welcome!

RUMC NURSERY SCHOOL

The nursery school enjoyed a virtual author visit with Miranda Mittleman. Her PAWS and THINK! books about her dog Weaver have great moral lessons. Her newest book about being a good sport centers around the idea of treating others the way you want to be treated. She was delighted when our 4 year old class was able to say and sign our April Bible verse "do to others as you would have them do to you." Copies of her books can be found in our church library. Thank you to the Turnbaugh Trust for providing this opportunity to our students. The children each received a copy of one of the PAWS and THINK! books.

WOMAN OF YEAR

Congratulations to the 2021 Woman of the Year – Kris Brown.

She was born in Baltimore County on a chilly day in February. Her father was a kind, loving man that worked multiple jobs and like her mother was very family oriented. Her mother worked both inside and outside of the house. She has 3 older sisters and an older brother. We are told that she did not start to talk until she was 5 yrs old, not because she couldn't but because her sisters would give her what she wanted when she pointed to an object. She was known to make special PB and J sandwiches and deliver them to her sister who would be at after school practices. Her sister recalls that these sandwiches were made with love and were the sweetest sandwiches she had ever eaten.

Her first job was at a McDonald's but has worked in various hospital jobs over the years. She fell in love with a man that also works in an organization that also serves people. Upon getting married she became a parent to two boys and two girls. She adores her kids and can be seen grinning from ear to ear as she will tell you how excited she is to see them explore and use their gifts. Most recently she has enjoyed taking her youngest to many exciting dance competitions where her daughter shines! Her oldest daughter Rachel recently got married and Rachel shared that when she first got engaged, she could not wait to make the first call to her Mom. Rachel also shared that Kris' help in picking out her wedding dress will always be a special memory.

While she is 100% focused on being a loving wife and Mom and working a fulltime job, maybe you have seen some of the many ways that she has served here at RUMC. You might have seen a prayer shawl that she has crocheted. You might have seen her wear a chef's hat during a VBS week. Maybe you enjoyed some yummy food while attending a Coffee House or ate a delicious Thanksgiving breakfast served by her and her family. However, her service in providing food is not the least limited to our church family. For this woman works countless hours to find, apply for and coordinate grants and food deliveries, especially through the Maryland Food Bank to supply the Food Pantry. Amidst the challenges of the past year, she developed procedures to keep the food pantry recipients and volunteers safe. Her kind heart and continual focus on bringing food to those most in need has and continues to touch families in this and the surrounding counties. She is a mentor to me and many others serving with the joy of Jesus.

Her sisters and family all want Kris to know that her Mom and Dad are gracing her with their light and love from above.

Thank you Kris for serving with the joy of Jesus in so many ways. We congratulate and celebrate you as this year's Woman of the Year.
