

Our Church Matters

Our Mission: Growing Together in Christ Through Worship, Fellowship, Witness and Service

Dear Friends,

My article for this month (see below "Church Council Vision Shared on May 1") is a reprint of my May 18 Midweek message, so some of you have already read it. The information is important enough that I felt I needed to also share it here.

Church Council Vision Shared on May 1

Several of you have been asking questions about the Church Council's vision that I shared in the message on May 1. This article is intended to offer responses to the questions that I know have been raised (in no particular order). You may read the manuscript of the May 1 message on the website at <http://rumcweb.org/worship/sermons/listen/>

The Vision

In the May 1 message, I focused mostly on the benefit of adding this staffing in relation to young adults, and that is true. However, the focus on young adult ministry is really part of a much broader vision of how we build life-long faith formation and discipleship as a congregation. We are building (or perhaps rebuilding is a better word) a program for all of life. Few would argue that we have some "holes" and one of those holes is in our young adult population and effective programming for that age group.

Our discipleship vision is that our faith family will be supported in their spiritual growth and development from cradle to grave, with age-appropriate ministries available all along our life's journeys. The council feels that the next step in developing our programs to that end is in young adult/young family ministry.

Why would we add program staff hours instead of adding another pastor?

Essential to our growth and vitality as a congregation is our ability to offer relevant programming for those who consider making our church their faith home. Organizing and developing programs and developing lay leadership is very time-consuming.

One way to think about this: A pastor's time is divided among a number of tasks and even the best-organized pastor knows that every day's schedule may be changed at a moment's notice when something comes up that needs immediate attention. While that can happen to program staff members' schedules as well, it is not as likely or frequent.

We have seen the results of excellent program staff work in our congregation, notably in youth ministries, and the Church Council feels that investing in young adults (single or married with or without young children) is what is needed to take our congregation to the next level.

In case you're wondering, I am 100% in agreement. I believe that adding program staff hours will be much more helpful to all of us and to me in particular than adding a pastoral position at this point.

How can we afford this when we can't afford another pastor?

Without the support of the congregation, the truth is that we can't. However, the 2016 budget included half of the amount needed for the annual salary because the idea was to commence the position on July 1 of this year. We would need to double that amount in the 2017 budget.

Things you need to know:

Our 2016 budget was adopted with an $18,000 deficit. It was developed using real numbers from 2015 expenditures and giving, as well as 2016 pledges and an estimate of giving for 2016 from those who do not pledge (an annual reality in our church and most churches).

Our giving record as of today shows that we are not currently on track to fully fund this budget. Therefore, I included an appeal to the congregation to increase their current giving in order to fully fund the budget.

On May 1, I asked everyone to increase their giving and said, "Can you increase your giving by 2% or $50 or more a month to contribute to making this vision a reality?" Here's what I mean by that: I know that family realities are different in each of our households and not everyone can consider the same increase in their giving. Some may be able to increase by 2% of whatever they are currently giving. Others may be able to give more than that. Simple math tells me that if 100 families in our congregation increased their giving by $50 each month, we would more than fully fund our budget, including the added staff hours for the whole year and many of the unexpected expenses that can arise (like extra snow removal). Congregational finance is not structured like dues. In fact offerings are in no way, shape or form like dues. Giving is a faith commitment. My prayer is that each of us will consider what we can contribute to put us in a solid financial position as we move forward to act on the vision God has planted in the hearts and minds of this church's leaders.

A final note on adding Pastoral or Staff hours. RUMC has a history of adding pastoral positions, so it's familiar and "normal." Some of you have been kind enough to question why we aren't adding another pastor "to help Vivian." Recent scholarship has advised that adding staff rather than pastors when a church is between about 150 and 350 in worship is much more effective in developing or redeveloping the church. I agree. With adequate staff help, especially staff that is theologically trained for the kind of discipleship work that we need here, it will make the work of your pastor more focused.

If you have questions about any of this, please contact George Hoffmann (jedimang@verizon.net) or me. We will be posting question and answers over the next few weeks as they arise.

Blessings on you!

Vivian

Dear Church family,

I would like to thank the United Methodist Women for giving me the honor of "Woman of the Year, 2016"! I was truly surprised and I will never forget this 2016 Mother Daughter Banquet. I truly call RUMC home as my Mom did. I have a lifetime of memories of RUMC and I plan on having many more. I also want to thank my husband, Bill as he kept this BIG secret from me and my sister, Lois as she was also in on this secret and helped Liz Livermore with her presentation. I also want to thank Liz for the wonderful presentation of the award and for the gifts she gave me. I will cherish the special Cross pin and also the angels and a special thanks for the needlework that Sue Wright did for me!

Thanks to all of you and praise be to God!

From the Food Pantry

We served 226 families in April

WE ARE IN NEED OF PLASTIC BAGS!!!

What a year we had! The food pantry handed out 2,178 bags of food in 2013. This served 548 individual families. Over 55,000 lbs. of food were handed out, plus 55 bags of school supplies, unlimited clothing, toiletries, cleaning supplies, household items, Panera Bread, and Wawa items. We had over 90 volunteers participate in this ministry adding up to over 3000 volunteer hours. The Community Luncheon opened in April. We served 430 meals and froze 340 meals for distribution at the food pantry. Thirty-two volunteers donated 850 hours of service. In addition, the church was instrumental in sponsoring 19 families for Christmas this year. If you would like to be involved in these ministries in the coming year, there are lots of ways to be a part of the team. Do you like to cook, clean, greet and meet people, bag groceries, run errands, write letters...? Contact me and we can find a way for you to get involved. (Lani Hoffmann 410-526-6967 or lanio5@verizon.net). Thank you to all of you who anonymously donate food each week to keep our shelves stocked. See the back page for items needed this and every month

Book Club will meet on

We will be discussing a very popular book from 1994, At Home in Mitford by Jan Karon. This is the first novel in a series of 11 taking place in a small town in North Carolina. The main character is an Episcopalian rector named Father Tim. He is new to the area and thinks it might be boring until he gets a huge dog for a housemate and then meets humorous and eccentric people. Count on some belly laughs.

From the Shelves

My book club recently read Mary Higgins Clark's newest work, "Death Wears a Beauty Mask and Other Stories." The main novella concerns a model named Alexandra. Her sister and new brother-in-law arrive in New York to visit her, only to discover that she's disappeared. They race around the city trying to find a clue as to her whereabouts. Then, a corpse appears in her living room. Is this the end of Alexandra?

I also enjoyed reading the other stories in this collection. My favorite was "The Cape Cod Masquerade." It features Clark's recurring characters, lottery winners Alvirah and Willy Meehan. We follow them to Cape Cod, where they hope to get some rest and relaxation. Instead, they find themselves trying to help a young woman who was wrongfully convicted of murder.

I also particularly liked "Definitely, a Crime of Passion," "Haven't We Met Before?," and "The Tell-Tale Purr." Check out this book for yourself and see which stories you like best.

Mother Daughter Banquet—May 5, 2016

RUMC 2016 Woman of the Year—Tammy Nash

At the Mother/Daughter Banquet, Tammy Nash was announced as the Woman of the Year for 2016. Tammy is a lifetime Methodist and member of RUMC. She attended Sunday school and was confirmed here at RUMC. After graduating from Towson State, Tammy met and married her husband at RUMC with Rev. Eugene Funk officiating. They settled in Hampstead and they have two children, a boy and a girl. They are also blessed with 4 grandchildren. She continues to be very close to her sister and family.

Her RUMC membership has continued as she raised her children and over the years, this quiet, helpful woman could be found at RUMC as she continued to be active as an adult with many aspects in the life of our church. She supported the Sunday school as a teacher, and was involved with fundraisers and programs, initiating the gift card program to benefit Missions, and helping with the Holly Fair. She was Co-president of Circle of Friends and served on the communion committee, the Mother / Daughter Banquet, and Chrismons. Tammy could be heard singing in the choir and she could be seen in the kitchen helping with Kiwanis dinners and church dinners as well as bringing casseroles for Our Daily Bread.

The importance of family and community has also been evident in her life as she volunteered in schools and with 4H where her children were involved. She supported 4H clubs as a leader and advisor for activities. She also supports people in the military as she leads 4H members in collecting items to be sent overseas. She also enjoys keeping up with the Orioles and the Ravens!

Congratulations to Tammy Nash, RUMC's "Woman of the Year" for 2016.
