

Our Church Matters

Our Mission: Growing Together in Christ
Through Worship, Fellowship, Witness and Service

Praise the Lord.

*I will give thanks to the Lord with my whole heart,
...in the congregation.*

Great are the works of the Lord.

Psalm 111:1-2a

A reprint of the June 2017 Pastor's Article.

Quick! What is the first thing you think about when you walk in the sanctuary on Sunday morning?

There's Mary!

I've just got to tell Joe _____.

Is that a visitor?

Praise the Lord!

Having the opportunity to go to the orientation for supervisors of Duke ministry interns was a gift. There were two outstanding keynote addresses by Duke professors, and one of them has had me thinking about awe and mystery in worship.

When we walk in the sanctuary on Sunday morning and take our place, many of us reach out to friends and others that worship with us. What if we did that while thinking, "what will God say to me today through my friend – or through this person I have never met before?" What if we enter worship expecting to find God – to experience a word from the Lord?

What if we begin the Call to Worship expecting to meet God in the words that we say? What if we sing the hymns lifting the words in praise to God?

When you come to worship this month, will you fix your eyes and heart on the awe and mysteries of God, expecting God to touch you and transcend the mundane?

I love this quote from Annie Dillard's book, Teaching a Stone to Talk, and often yearn to see where God is ready to take us!

On the whole, I do not find Christians, outside of the catacombs, sufficiently sensible of conditions. Does anyone have the foggiest idea what sort of power we so blithely invoke? Or, as I suspect, does no one believe a word of it? The churches are children playing on the floor with their chemistry sets, mixing up a batch of TNT to kill a Sunday morning. It is madness to wear ladies' straw hats and velvet hats to church; we should all be wearing crash helmets.

Ushers should issue life preservers and signal flares; they should lash us to our pews. For the sleeping god may wake someday and take offense, or the waking god may draw us out to where we can never return. "

What if?

Blessings!

Vivian

Dear RUMC,

When I moved here from Chicago 32 years ago, eventually settling in Owings Mills, God directed my steps to RUMC. Not having any family in Maryland, I was grateful for my church family. The inspiration, support, love, friendships, help with growing my faith and deepening my relationship with Jesus and stretching my mindset -- all this and more that I experienced in your midst are gifts I'll cherish forever. Now God is directing my steps to join my Pierce family in Florida. My move date was May 30. I will miss all of you and my life in Maryland, but excited to find out what's ahead for me in this new chapter. I wish you all the very best God has to offer.

Love in Christ,
Suzanne Pierce

From the Library

Library Log

1. Inspiration for our daily lives often comes from books. Read this submitted by Brenda Soskin: "One must always be careful of books and what is inside them, for words have the power to change us."
Cassandra Clare from Clockwork Angel

2. If you run across an inspirational quote for publication in the Library Log, please submit it.
3. Summer Reading at the public library is in full swing. It runs from June 18 - August 19 and is for kids, teens, and adults. You may read books from our library for this program

Book Club will meet for dinner out on Wednesday, July 25th (Note Date Change) at 6:00 at Firenze Restaurant in Reisterstown.

Our book that evening is Lilac Girls by Martha Hall Kelly. The novel is inspired by a real WWII heroine.

MAN OF THE YEAR

This year's Man of the Year came to our church in 1989. He has 5 children and 1 granddaughter. He was born in Baltimore and grew up moving back and forth between Baltimore and Philadelphia.

He worked early on in a Bakery and for Cloverland Dairy. Yes young people at one time we had milk men that delivered bottles of milk to our houses. He joined the Army in 1954 where he served in Europe with Special services. While in Europe he met and was prayed over by the late great Billy Graham.

Before getting into details that will likely give it away I want to read a quote given by this man.

"My overall thing is I want for young people to achieve and I will continue doing what I'm doing until God tells me That's enough."

This man was a soloist with the 76th Jazz army band and has worked with greats such as Fred Waring, Robert Shaw and Count Basie. While serving in the army he was tapped to start a full operation of musical activities in Southern France for the troops.

He has a masters from Peabody and studied at both the American University and Paris Conservatory. Currently he serves on the board at Peabody with a focus on diversity and inclusion. He taught choir and musical theater for Dulaney Valley High School. This man decided to leave teaching and put his extensive musical education and experience to use by beginning a musical group of gifted students where he could be free from a curriculum and teach in an out of the box fashion.

Our man of the year makes children a central priority in our community. He started Maryland Sings in 1990 where the kids have gotten to do incredible things like do 2 tours in Europe, Canada and sang at the White House. The goal of Maryland Sings is give its members a sense of self-confidence and allow them to fully explore their talents.

On a personal level I will say that this man sees potential in his singers that they could never imagine. I have worked with him on several occasions and his selections always seem out of reach for me but he knows better. I am certain it is true for many in our congregation that our amazing church choir was a significant reason to join RUMC.

I'm sure you all have guessed by now our man of the year is our incredible Music director- Dr. Bill Myers.

Vacation Bible School is just around the corner.

RUMC YOUTH NEWS

Spoke Folk

Spoke Folk is a ministry passionate about living and sharing the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Every year Spoke Folk holds several 12-day tours of up to 30 participants (15-20 years old) and 10 adult counselors from across the country. After a few days of training, the tour bikes around 40 miles to a new church each day and performs a program of Christian music and testimonies. Through biking, music, and community, Spoke Folk trains youth how to be missionaries in their daily lives, while sharing the love of Jesus with those we meet on the road and in the congregations we visit on tour.

RUMC will be hosting Spoke Folk on Monday, July 9th—more information will be forthcoming—please mark your calendars and plan to attend!

There are openings for youth participants (ages 15-20) and a few counselors (age 21+). Please share this opportunity with your youth and potential counselors.
