

Our Church Matters

Our Mission: Growing Together in Christ
Through Worship, Fellowship, Witness and Service

Dear RUMC Family,

Each of us has a money story, whether we recognize it or not. We have a story we tell ourselves about money that's built from our personal experiences, our beliefs and our values, and that story shapes how we feel and act when it comes to money. We begin forming these stories at a young age - starting with the way our parents talked about money - and they evolve with us over time. It's possible we've never examined our money story before, but whether we're conscious of it or not, it can drive our career choices, family decisions, and more.

God has a money story, too. In fact, money and possessions are one of the most common topics in scripture, and Jesus talked about money more than He talked about faith and prayer. Our money stories, then, are spiritual stories.

On October 10, we'll begin a four-week worship series called Our Money Story, which will invite us to reflect on our own money stories alongside God's money story of liberation and justice. We'll ask ourselves the question, "Where might God be speaking a new narrative into the limited ones we have told ourselves?" As we journey together through scripture, we'll be invited to reimagine our stories, so that our relationship to our money and possessions might become a fuller expression of who we are and what we believe.

I invite you to join us for worship, and I also encourage you to follow along with the four-week devotional that will accompany the series. They will be available in the Narthex beginning October 3 and in the office on October 4. If you are unable to join us in person, just email the church office at rumcoffice1777@gmail.com, and we'll send you one by mail.

During the month of October, we will also be hearing more about the ministries of RUMC and the life-changing impact of your financial gifts. As we plan for ministry in 2022, it's important for us to be able to anticipate what resources we will have to work with. On Sunday, October 31, we will be invited to make a commitment to the 2022 ministry budget - both as an expression of gratitude for all that God has done for us and a prayer that God would continue to use RUMC to touch people's lives here in Reisterstown and beyond. You'll receive more information about how to make a commitment to the 2022 ministry budget toward the end of October.

Don't forget that this Sunday is World Communion Sunday! I look forward to seeing you worship as we join one another and our siblings around the world at the Table.

Blessings and peace,
Pastor Jen

I recently acquired a prayer blanket to give to my neighbor who had just been put into hospice care. He passed away three days after I gave it to him. His daughter has told me repeatedly how much the blanket meant to him. It was such a comfort to him as he kept it wrapped around him until the end. This man was so special to me and exemplified what being a Christian means. He always put others before himself and gave of his time and talent to help others in need. I just wanted to express my gratitude to the prayer shawl committee for all of the time they invest in making these meaningful gifts. This is such a worthwhile ministry and I want you to know how much you are all appreciated for sharing your gifts so that we can bless others.

Carol Holland

THANKS FROM THE HEART

Dear Friends,

I have been deeply blessed by the many cards and notes of concern and love sent to me in the last several weeks, both at the death of my mother and now that I am dealing with thyroid cancer and surgery. Your cheery well wishes have done their job and brought life and healing to me and Rich.

So many of you shared a memory of my mother, pictures of the Mom we knew but had lost as her illnesses robbed her of so much. We remain deeply grateful that she is now resting with God and is no longer suffering.

We finally have been able to make arrangements for Mom's memorial service. It will be Sunday, October 24, at 1 pm, at the Brooklyn Community United Methodist Church, 110 Townsend Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland 21225, with light refreshments following. This is the church where my mother was so active and where my sisters and I grew up, learning how God loves fiercely as well as how we were to love fiercely as God's hands and feet in the world. There are still a few people who Mom loved and who were close to her for a lifetime, and we are hopeful that by having it in their place will allow them to participate in commending her to God.

Thank you for holding me in your hearts and prayers. Please know that I pray for you and of course miss the healing power of true community that nourishes and is life-giving that is part of RUMC.

Finally, I know that some of you have also experienced loss and challenges in the last 15 months. I lift you in prayer and grieve with you, asking that God hold you especially close and continue to build you up as you grow into Christ's likeness.

Blessings on you,
Vivian

Belize 40th Independence Anniversary

The Belizean Flag

The country of Belize has celebrated its 40th anniversary of political independence from Britain on Tuesday, September 21, 2021 under the theme: Belize at 40: Hopeful Hearts, Steady Hands, Together We Rise. In his speech of the day, Prime Minister John Briceno urged nationals here and abroad to participate in the various activities mindful of the presence of the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic that has curtailed much of the celebrations. Belize has implemented a state of emergency and has extended the COVID-19-related eight-hour nightly curfew until now.

In a congratulatory message, Caribbean Community (CARICOM) Secretary-General, Dr Carla Barnett, a Belizean national, lauded the Belize government's commitment to the Community's most pressing priorities, including advocacy against climate change, which she noted has brought great benefits.

She said that this year's celebration theme unifies all citizens in calling on them to continue to work hard, harness their collective strengths, focus on progress, and seize the opportunities at hand, including the benefits of regional integration.

She also attested that CARICOM has greatly benefitted from the commitment of the Government of Belize to the Community's most pressing priorities, including the Community's global advocacy against climate change, especially the mobilization of expertise in the lead up to the Glasgow Climate Change Conference (COP26), its leadership on matters of importance to small states, and its responsibility as the lead for justice and governance in the quasi-cabinet of CARICOM Heads of Government.

Prime Minister John Briceno

The United States government also praised Belize for the accomplishments achieved over the past four decades of independence. In its congratulatory message, Washington noted:

"Our nations are bound by a strong friendship and partnership, safeguarded by our mutual commitment to democracy, security, and joint prosperity. We continue to stand with Belize in facing shared challenges such as the COVID-19 pandemic, transnational organized crime, and the climate crisis. As you celebrate your 40th Independence Day, may the bond between our nations continue to be an example of what is possible through partnership between vibrant democracies with shared values and common goals."

Reflection on the fallouts of COVID for children in Belize

Moise Ndjungu uses a tablet for online classes

COVID-19 is claiming lives and livelihoods across the globe, and Belize is no exception. As families struggle to stay afloat, the crisis is battering essential services that secure the education and protection of the country's children. With over 40 per cent of the population under the age of 18, tens of thousands of young Belizeans are at risk. Although the pandemic strikes everyone, the consequences are mostly felt by children. COVID-19 affects the children of Belize in 4 major ways:

1. The rise of unemployment: Because many businesses have closed, many people have lost their jobs, thus threatening families with hunger and other hardships. Children being the most vulnerable are the most affected by this situation.
2. School closure: As an alternative to traditional face to face teaching, Belize has adopted online teaching since last year. Classroom teaching has not resumed until now. Children whose parents cannot afford to buy a tablet or an android phone for their children are completely left out, without education. For instance, before COVID, my son attended school with 26 other students in his class. But now they are 7 in their online class. This means that 20 students are out school. Multiply this number by all the classes and schools in the country, there are thousands of children who are unschooled right now.

3. Violence is on the rise for children. As communities are disrupted, children already at risk of violence, exploitation and abuse find themselves even more vulnerable. In Belize, data shows that violence against children has increased since the beginning of the pandemic.
4. The future of children is in jeopardy. The costs of the pandemic for children are immediate. If unaddressed, they may persist throughout their lives. The Government of Belize and its partners do their best to support the most vulnerable children, so that they have a fair chance in life and can shape their own futures; but the resources are limited.
